טופס הסכמה: בדיקת אקו לב במאמץ בהשראת דוביוטמין
Dobutamine Stress Echo (DSE)

The purpose of the test is to examine the contraction of the heart during effort by patients who are not able to make the effort to walk, in order to evaluate the blood supply to the heart muscle. With the help of the test it is possible to foretell, with high probability, the existence of significant narrowing of one or more of the coronary arteries supplying blood to the heart muscle and to evaluate the function of the valves. Evaluation of the heart function is done by ultrasound waves. During the test an intravenous infusion is given with the medication called dobutamine which causes acceleration of the pulse and increases the heart contractions, as an expression of effort. The effect of the medication wears off after a few minutes after its cessation. The test is carried out lying on the left side and the medication infusion lasts 15 minutes.
